Nazis Hurl All At Beachhead

By EDWARD KENNEDY

ALLIED HEADQUARTERS, Naples, Feb. 17 (AP)—A fierce battle has broken the lull on the beachhead south of Rome, with the Germans launching heavy attacks in the northern sector, but all evidence today indicated the Allied forces were holding against continuing enemy thrusts.

An announcement at headquarters said the Germans struck yesterday morning after a heavy artillery preparation. Both sides threw tanks into the heavy fighting.

The Americans and British were said to be grimly holding to their positions in the face of tremendous pressure.

It was the second all-out German attempt to smash the Allied beachhead. The enemy was said to be throwing his full force of infantry, tanks and artillery into the struggle, which was hourly increasing in violence.

BULLETIN

WASHINGTON, Feb. 17 (INS)—Secretary of War Stimson today estimated 17 German divisions may be facing the Allies in southern Italy but added American and British forces are "firmly established" below Rome. He said reports had been "rather pessimistic."

Enemy aircraft swung into the battle in unusual force, some 130 sorties attacking objectives in the battle zone. But the Allied air forces met the air attack, blow for blow, shooting down nine of the attackers and blasting targets in the fighting area.

The enemy attack came in the Carroceto (Aprilia) area, 10 miles due north of the port of Anzio. Much of the previous heavy fighting has taken place in that sector and various vantage points there have changed hands several times. Carroceto itself was in German hands at latest report.

The Germans opened the new offensive after apparently recovering from losses suffered in the first major effort to drive American and British troops into the sea, but during the lull the Allies also had built up new strength and were ready for and expecting the assault.

On the lower Fifth Army front Allied artillery laid many shells during the day among German traffic on highway 6 leading out of Cassino, and two miles west Allied troops engaged the enemy in a sharp clash on Albaneta ridge.

While the Monte Cassino monastery has been reduced to ruins the Germans are holding out in a network of strong pillboxes around it, and this has apparently prevented ground troops from occupying the crest of Abbey hill.

On the Eighth Army front patrols were active, including those of newly arrived Polish troops. Canadian artillery fire caused a large explosion and fire near Francavilla. An Indian formation dispersed an enemy party of 60 near Orsogna.

The air attack on Rome, directed against the Tiburtina and Ostiense railroad yards, cascaded high explosives into great clusters of freight cars, the majority of which were loaded with supplies to feed the German offensive on the bleachhead.

The Allied air superiority was brought into play in one of the biggest air attacks of the Italian campaign. The 1200 sorties flown during the day were directed chiefly against German forces ringing the beachhead, but heavy and medium bombers also swept into northern Italy to attack communications.

Boston Invaders and Thunderbolts fought over the beachhead in direct support of the Allies.

RUSSIA—As Red fliers again raid Helsinki, Soviet forces drive south toward Pskov, while Russ paratroopers are reported landing some 15 miles west of Narva in push to capture Baltic States. In addition, Berlin declares, other Soviet forces are striking across frozen Lake Peipus.

Reds Find Nazi Defense Stiffer

By EDDY GILMORE

MOSCOW, Feb. 17 (AP)—The Red army met increased resistance as it drove upon the great communications hub of Pskov from two directions today, but northwest of the city, where Lake Peipus joins Lake Pskov, Soviet troops who captured the town of Samolva developed a new threat to the Pskov-Riga trunk railway.

Samolva is on the eastern shore of the Lake Peipus narrows, which are less than a mile wide in some places. Any push across here, followed by a drive to the south, would land the Russians along the railway and highway leading to Riga.

This newest threat to Pskov is the most dangerous confronting the city, anchor of the German defense system in that area.

The army newspaper Red Star said the Germans were counter-attacking violently south and southeast of Gdov in the Lake Peipus region, where the Russians are 30 miles from Pskov.

On the twin drive south and southwest from Luga, where the Russian troops swept up 30 towns and villages during the past 24 hours, the Red Army met hard going as it pressed down both sides of the Leningrad-Pskov railway.

In the upper corner of the Dnieper bend the Red Army subdued Field Marshal Von Mannstein's heavy tank thrusts north of Zhenigorodka yesterday and recaptured two important towns, Yablonovka and Taraschcha.

Asks 30 Billion For Navy in 1945

WASHINGTON, Feb. 17 (AP)—President Roosevelt today asked the largest appropriation in history for the Navy—$30,789,000,000 for the 1945 fiscal year.

The outlay, subject to congressional approval, would compare with $27,435,037,198 appropriated for the 1944 fiscal year and $23,808,852,547 for the preceding year.

The tentative 1945 estimate for the war program of the War Department is $18,001,451,840, compared with a 1944 appropriation of $59,036,297,571.

Russians Raid Helsinki Again

STOCKHOLM, Feb. 17 (AP)—Russian planes attacked Helsinki last night for the second time in 11 days, spreading damage as rumors persisted that the Finns are dickering with Moscow for peace terms.

What Goes on Here?

Opening its morning bulletin, the French transmitter broadcast:

"This is the Paris radio station. Here is the answer to message number one:

"'AGREED. AWAITING PROPOSALS.'"

Davis Hits Ban Alexander Put On Anzio News

By ARTHUR F. HERMANN

WASHINGTON, Feb. 17 (INS)—Elmer Davis, director of the Office of War Information, today requested the War Department to make official investigation into new, drastic censorship restrictions imposed on American correspondents covering the fighting at the Anzio-Nettuno beachhead.

The restrictions were clamped on by British Gen. Alexander, commanding Allied ground forces in the Italian war theater.

Alexander's action was severely criticized by Congressmen, who generally declared the public is entitled to all news within the limitations of military security.

Gen. Alexander

The British general imposed the restrictions because he said news stories from Nettuno describing the recent tense situation in that sector were "rubbish."

President Roosevelt was authority last Friday for the statement the Allied beachhead situation was tense. Washington officials were particularly surprised at Alexander's criticism of this point.

"I feel the people are entitled to just as much information as can be given within the limits of military security — whether the news is good or bad," Davis said.

Alexander's censorship policy has resulted in a minimum delay of two days in receipt of correspondents' front-line dispatches in the United States and Great Britain. Alexander has removed the facilities of a short wave radio station through which news stories had been relayed from the beachhead to transmission points at Naples. Further, he has ruled that all dispatches must be censored twice—once at the fighting front for factual content, and again at Naples headquarters for "policy."

Commons Probes Curb Put on War News

LONDON, Feb. 17 (INS)—Inquiry into the new censorship over dispatches of battle front correspondents until they "come into line," imposed by Gen. Alexander in Italy, was promised to Commons today.

Sir James Grigg, secretary of state for war, pledged that "immediate inquiries" will be made into the question of "why Anzio dispatches are being sent to Naples for policy censorship."

U. S. BOMBERS STRIKE CLOSE TO JAPS' TRUK

U. S. PACIFIC FLEET HEADQUARTERS, Pearl Harbor, Feb. 17 (AP)—Ranging into the Carolines to within 400 miles of mighty Truk, big land-based Army Liberators have delivered the first attack of the war on Ponape, Japan's "Gibraltar of the Pacific."

Admiral Nimitz announced that a force of the Seventh AAF heavy bombers dropped 55 tons of explosives Monday on Ponape, sinking a cargo ship and blasting shore installations. Meeting no air opposition, all the raiders got home.

There was no official indication as to the bases from which the big bombers flew. They perhaps took off from the Tarawa air base in the Gilberts, which would mean a roundtrip flight of more than 2000 miles. Newly-won Kwajalein in the Marshalls is less than 600 miles east of Ponape and American air bases are being developed there but a recent dispatch from Washington stated those bases were only large enough for medium bombers.

Ponape's excellent harbor is overlooked by a heavily fortified rock like Gibraltar. It recently was photographed by a Marine plane, disclosing 25 ships in the lagoon.

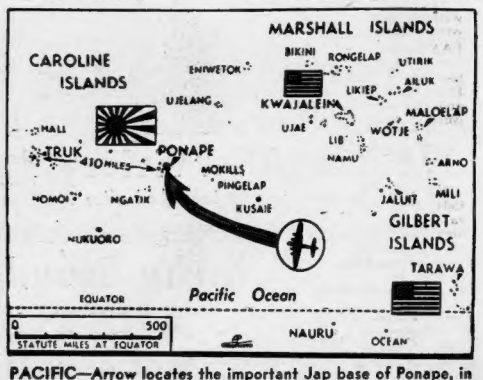
Admiral Nimitz also announced that five atolls in the Marshalls were raided Monday and Tuesday.

ALLIED HEADQUARTERS IN THE SOUTHWEST PACIFIC, Feb. 17 (AP)—Allied planes flying low through heavy antiaircraft fire plastered the Japanese base at Kavieng, New Ireland, with 65 tons of bombs, setting the town ablaze and smashing cargo vessels, Gen. McArthur reported today.

The ackack knocked down eight Allied aircraft.

MacArthur's communique said that United States and New Zealand troops, who swarmed onto the Green islands, have consolidated their positions.

Medium bombers, attack planes and fighters in the Kavieng raid sprayed the Japanese with 100,000 rounds of machinegun ammunition.



PACIFIC—Arrow locates the important Jap base of Ponape, in the Caroline islands, which was blasted by American heavy bombers. Ponape is only 410 miles from the Japs' big naval base of Truk.

AMNESIA VICTIM AT CITY HOSPITAL
Says He Believes Names Is Hurbain Palin

Clue Tattooed On Boston Army Amnesia Victim

By ALICE BISSELL

The lad has "U. S. Army" tattooed on his left arm but he cannot remember the darkness of war he may have suffered . . . His agony today is a living darkness . . . and pain in trying to remember.

He has not been able to remember anything since a terrible headache seized him yesterday and blotted out his past.

In the shelter of City Hospital, he has been thinking until he is sick with fatigue, and his brown, bewildered eyes are strained and heavy.

"I remember walking, walking, walking, marching, marching, with that headache. A place called Jenks Park with an Arch over it, and the police station that was Joy st. station where I told them I had forgotten everything.

HIS POLITE REPLIES

His Army training shows in the answers he gives to persons who seek to help him learn about his past.

"Yes, sir. No sir. I can't remember, sir. I have forgotten everything, sir."

He remembers that he was discharged from the Army, and that he had been in Lovell General Hospital, Ft. Devens.

"The face of a major there . . . the face of a doctor . . . but where are my discharge papers?"

When he was taken to City Hospital he was wearing Army trousers, shoes, shirt, tie, with a civilian green sweater, leather jacket and brown overcoat.

Soft spokan and apparently well-educated, he pointed to his wedding ring.

CAN'T REMEMBER A WIFE

"I am married. I can't remember my wife, or home. Perhaps I do have children. Or mother and father. I wish they would come to me. Perhaps they will help me and remind me of myself if they see my picture in the paper."

The name "Hurbain Palin" was stenciled on his shirt with a serial number. The Army is checking but cannot be sure yet whether it's his own.

"The name is familiar. I am French. Yes." And he suddenly spoke fluently in French, pointing to another tattoo on his arm of a heart and cross. "French and Catholic," he said.

"When the provost marshal came to the hospital last night and mentioned the names of cities, Pawtucket and Central Falls rang a bell.

"Overseas? I don't remember. Maybe I never fought. I can only remember those cramps in my head."

The boy looks about 25 years old, weighs 130 pounds, is five feet six inches tall and has light brown hair.

Army Depends On Non-Coms

By AUSTEN LAKE

SOMEWHERE IN ENGLAND (by transport mail)—Grim souvenirs of Adolf Hitler's failure still strew the English landscape, relics of the invasion which did not occur, and which remain as mocking reminders of the German boast: "Today Europe, tomorrow the world." They are all that are visible of the circle of defense which England built while the writer was last here in '41—heavy pill boxes anchored by the roadside, machine-gun bases to command fields of fire, concrete road blocks to obstruct enemy advance (censored).

They are still here, though the thought of invasion is gone with the wind.

The zig-zag tank ditches and sandbagged trenches which pitted every English pasture and open field have been filled in. But England has taken no time to remove the cement blockhouses which pepper the island from the beaches to London. Now they serve another purpose—to help train American troops, some of which have been here so long and trained so intensively that they say satirically, they are preparing for the Third World War—not this one.

Still, whichever war, they are using these wayside forts for "enemy redoubts," much as schoolboys attack a dry goods packing case with snowballs. Only their game is deadly grim.

Lake Addresses 3000

I have watched many of these training problems and never cease to thank God for our non-coms—these two and three-stripers and the "zebra men," as they call the many-chevroned top sergeants. For these are the backbone of the U. S. Army, and the men who, in the final showdown, furnish the punch and the "guts" that will decide the war—gristle-and-bone men who have the leadership qualities of a football captain—the trick of off-duty fellowship and on-the-field business.

I mean youths like Sergt. Tim J. Hayes of 62 Cross st. Franklin, a former Brighton cafe cook whose wife's cousin is Bill Brennan, the Boston police reporter, and whose wedlock with Eleanor (McGreary) is seven months old. And Corp. Lester W. Newlin of 17 Port Norfolk st., Dorchester, an ex-shipyard worker and now a mortar squad leader, whose Dad, Augustus G., is packer for Walworth Wrench. And Sergt. Bill C. Batchelder, Box 24, Ballard Vale, Andover, who worked for the foreign department of the First National Bank and last August married Ruth Anderson.

And Corp. Frank J. Miniscalco of 216 Bremen st., East Boston, a former lathe operator for Manning, Maxwell and Moore, who is going to spend his furlough in Scotland —a fad among the G. I's, although it takes 15 hours of vertical sleeping in a day coach.

Today the writer talked to the largest crowd of men he has ever addressed—a throng of some 3000 soldiers who stood in a huge half-moon as student-spectators of a combat problem. It was not an oration, of course, but a microphone appeal to sift out the New Englanders.

Censorship rules forbid mention of what that problem was, or even the exact function of these troops, but I may say that it took place on a hilltop amphitheater, where the men watched a scale model as-

Legion Enlists 168 in House to Back Vets' Bill

By FRANK REILLY
Boston American Staff Writer

WASHINGTON, Feb. 17—Twenty-one more members of the House of Representatives today joined the swelling list of those who seek passage of the American Legion's "bill of rights" for veterans of this war.

But while the total number of proponents rose to 168, in an informal poll, disturbing "sharpshooting" by occasional misguided opponents called forth new warnings from friends of servicemen and women.

Francis M. Sullivan, national legislative director of the American Legion, urged every post in the country to send a petition for enactment of the veterans' omnibus bill.

WILL UNROLL PETITIONS

Shortly before the House is due to vote on the measure the petitions will be unrolled on Pennsylvania ave. from the Treasury to the Capitol. Glued end to end, they will form a document a mile and a half long, Sullivan said.

As discussion of the omnibus bill went on in Washington, Cong. Thomas J. Lane of Massachusetts introduced a proposal to increase allotments for veterans taking vocational training. He asks that the basic allotment be raised from $80 to $100 a month, with extra payments to veterans having dependents.

One of the latest congressional leaders to promise full support to the Legion bill was Rep. Jed Johnson of Oklahoma.

DEMANDS TRAINING

Rep. Beverly Mills Vincent of Kentucky, another backer, urged adoption of the bill because "it is the duty of Congress to see to it that the discharged servicemen are properly trained.

"When the present wave of patriotism dies down, business and industry will not want these boys unless they are trained," he said.

Rep. Roy O. Woodruff of Michigan, veteran of 24 years in the House, gave assurance of his vote in favor of the measure.

Also announcing his support of the measure was Cong. Harold C. Hagen of Minnesota, spokesman for the Farm-Labor group in the House, and one of the leaders of Norwegian-American affairs in the country, and a former editor of a Norwegian-language paper.

Sham Battle Proves Invasion AEF Ready

By PIERRE J. HUSS

WITH AMERICAN INVASION TROOPS IN ENGLAND, Feb. 17 (INS)—Here they come, and there they go, describes the speed and skill with which a crack American armored unit under live fire—plenty of it and hot—today demonstrated its ability to break through any strongly-held enemy line once it goes into action against Hitler's continental fortress.

Under battle conditions which came so close to the real thing that only the enemy and the casualties were missing, I watched tank and artillery outfits, foot and motorized infantry respond in co-ordinated action to every situation as it was presented.

Overhead, bombers and fighters roared and live artillery shells fluttered only 100 feet away, but what impressed me were the foot-slogging infantrymen who steadily dashed forward up hill between tanks.

Red flames of high explosive shells slammed the black earth into fountains scarcely 100 yards from this advancing infantry, and sometimes seemed to explode right in front of the first wave.

The "battle" fury at one time became so deafening normal conversation was out of the question, with General Shermans and General Grants and armored cars in waves churning through the fields of mud firing all their guns, and with the infantry opening up with rifles, machine guns and mortars.

These troops I saw have been doing this day after day for many months now, sometimes at night, and the same story can be told about all other American troops in England.

I don't know when or where the invasion is coming, but what I saw convinced me the American soldier will be ready for it.

Ford Union Sued For $250,000

DETROIT, Feb. 17 (AP)—Charged with defamation of character, Ford local 600 of the United Automobile Workers (CIO) union is being sued for $250,000 damages.

Arthur M. O'Brien, 54, charged the union local had defamed him in obtaining his dismissal from the Ford Motor Co.'s Rouge plant. He alleged in circuit court he had been called a "company stooge" in connection with an incident March 17, 1943, when he said he was seeking only to discharge his duty as a union committeeman.

In its reply, Ford local 600 said O'Brien was accused by a majority of fellow unionists and received a fair trial by the union.

Ten Million Ration Tokens Arrive Here

Ten million in a "new currency" arrived at the First National Bank in Boston today and is ready for distribution to market men in this area.

This "currency" is the small round discs or tokens customers will receive as ration change on and after Feb. 27 from their grocers.

Of the 10 million received by First National, two and a half millions were distributed through the banks' branches to be given to local stores in their areas and to the big chains who went for their loads early this morning in trucks.

The tokens come in small flat boxes containing 250 and the boxes cannot be broken. A grocer must call for the amount he wants and pay for it in ration currency—either with a ration check if he already has a ration account, or the equivalent of 250 points in paper coupons.

All grocers were notified the tokens had arrived at the bank and were waiting for distribution today but few put in an appearance except the chains and a few larger concerns which had arranged to get theirs some days ago.

Bank officials surmised grocers were putting off till tomorrow what the government would like them to do today!

Vet Aid Setup To Continue

Funds of the Army Emergency Relief will not be turned over to the Red Cross when that agency takes over the work of aiding veterans March 15, Maj. Edward Sherman, in charge of emergency relief here, said today.

Maj. Sherman said Army Emergency Relief will continue to operate at military establishments, and that the Red Cross will take over civilian cases, the aid given to dependents of soldiers.

Under the new setup, the Red Cross will handle the cases of all discharged servicemen, Maj. Sherman said. This feature of the transfer was protested by Joel L. Miller, general counsel for the Veterans' Charitable Legal Ass'n.

BOWLES PICKS BACKMAN AS HIS OPA AIDE

Kenneth B. Backman will resign this week as regional administrator of the OPA and will become special consultant to Chester Bowles, national OPA administrator in Washington, his Boston office announced today.

Succeeding Backman here will be his present deputy, Eldon C. Shoup of Framingham who was advanced last month from regional OPA ration head.

Backman and other local OPA officials are in Washington, attending a conference of directors from all parts of the nation. Shoup, after receiving a rush call from Washington, left on the midnight train last night for tshe capital.

Backman telephoned his office about the change today.

LACK OF ASSISTANTS

Backman, brought into OPA from the Boston Better Business Bureau more than two years ago after 16 years as general manager, has long nursed a plan for coordination of large business, which each group policing itself for price violations.

The lack of manpower under OPA to keep a strict rein on prices has handicapped enforcement, according to officials, and Backman is understood to have felt the large business groups would willingly cooperate in doing the jobs.

Observers here today felt this would be Backman's new assignment as Chester Bowles' special consultant—organizing the business groups to that end.

CONFLICTING AUTHORITY

According to attaches of the local OPA office, there have been conflicts of authority among officials here since last November, when the regional office took over the state office, headed by Lawrence J. Bresnahan.

Following the absorption, Bresnahan was made assistant administrator to Backman, the Bresnahan post of state OPA director having been abolished by Backman.

The understanding at the regional office today was that Backman would formally announce his resignation upon his return to Boston, perhaps on Saturday—but that at any rate he would announce it before the end of the month.

Held in Taxi Holdup

Daniel J. Allen, 33, of Chilton st., Cambridge, was held in bail of $5000 for the grand jury today after a taxi driver testified in East Cambridge district court that Allen tried to hold him up on Memorial Drive last night. Allen pleaded not guilty.

The driver was Robert Reader of Florence st.

Boy, 15, Kills Father In Mother's Defense

DETROIT, Feb. 17 (AP)—Barton Tucker, 45-year-old war plant worker, died in receiving hospital and juvenile authorities arrested his 15-year-old son, Harold, who police said admitted striking the older man with a claw hammer "because he tried to kill my mother."

HAROLD TUCKER, 15, WITH MOTHER, ANNA TUCKER
Boy Held in Hammer Death of Father

The elder Tucker died less than four hours after he was taken to the hospital.

Asst. Prosecutor Glenn Temple quoted the youth as saying his father had been drinking and, becoming enraged at noise made by children at play in the back yard, attacked his mother, Anna, who has seven other children.

"Pop doesn't like my sister Mable's kids," Temple quoted Harold as saying. "He got awful mad when he saw them in the yard.

"Pop asked mom, 'Why didn't you tell me that Natalie (their five-year-old granddaughter) was there?'

"Mom said she didn't know they were there. Then Pop said, 'You're a liar and I might as well do away with you now and get it over with.' Then he knocked her down and was choking her."

Then, Temple said the youth told him, he grabbed up a hammer and, while two sisters, 11 and 9, watched, struck his father 10 times as he crouched over his mother on the floor.

"Pop slumped over on the floor and Mom ran out," the boy was quoted as adding.

Very Sensitive Now Curley Tells Court

Cong. James M. Curley startled a jammed federal courtroom today by confessing that he is getting older and that "as you become old in years you become sensitive to things."

"I have become too sensitive in late years," the former mayor and governor declared during his third successive day as witness in his $500,000 suit against the Curtis Publishing Co.

Basis for the suit is an article which appeared in the Saturday Evening Post, Oct. 4, 1941, which was declared by Curley to have caused him "mental and physical anguish" because of untruths it allegedly contained.

ABUSE IN CAMPAIGN

But despite the Curley admission that the years are catching up to him, Defense Counsel John L. Hall, during a clash between counsel, told Judge E. Wyzanski, Jr.:

"I want to show, Your Honor, that Mr. Curley, after years of campaigning, is impervious to what campaigning is."

Just before that, Curley had agreed in cross-examination that during a political campaign there was "abuse on both sides."

The cross-examination in the trial had already brought admission from Curley that he appointed to office a number of men with court records and had "emulated Huey Long" to gain control of the Executive Council while Governor.

The reference to Huey Long came during questioning of Curley on shuffling of appointments "for political service" to gain control of the Governor's Council. "Did it occur to you that such actions were an emulation of Huey Long's?" he was asked, and replied, "I should say yes."

DENIES KNOWING RECORDS

Under questioning by Hall, the Congressman agreed he had appointed four men with court records to State jobs.

Questioned as to whether he knew of the records when he made the appointments, Curley said he did not, and in several instances testified he had met the appointees only a few times.

In the Saturday Evening Post article Curley was accused of turning state bureaus into "dummy" bodies by packing them with "docile" employes, and with "loading" departments of public service with "stumble-bums."

G. B. Sees Wife Fund Pygmalion Inspired

LONDON, Feb. 17 (AP)—George Bernard Shaw believes his play, "Pygmalion," may have inspired his wife to bequeath a fund to the Irish to teach them the niceties of speech and social intercourse.

He made this suggestion to newsmen yesterday when it was made known that Mrs. Shaw had willed the bulk of her $600,000 estate to become an educational fund for the people of her native land.

"Pygmalion" told of the transformation of an unlettered flower girl into a society belle by an idealistic English professor who taught her cultured English. It was made into a motion picture distributed in America.

Shaw made it clear, however, the money would not go to the Irish until he was dead.

"Already a considerable number of people have written me from Ireland to get hold of the money," he said. "They are not going to get it.

"What I have, I hold. Mr. Churchill's attitude is my attitude."

This apparently was a reference to Churchill's assertion that he did not become prime minister to preside over "the liquidation of the British Empire."

Mrs. Shaw's will specified the fund was to be used for teaching the Irish, among other things, "self-control, elocution, deportment and the arts of personal contact and social intercourse."

"It is no good your asking me about Mrs. Shaw's attitude toward Ireland," Shaw said. "Don't ask me; ask her spirit. What she observed in Ireland I observe in England."

Hotel Gun, Phone Clues Unchecked

CHICAGO, Feb. 17—Two main clues remain unchecked in the mystery murder of Mrs. Adele Born Williams, according to Detective Richard Martin.

He listed the standout clues as (1)—the murder gun, and (2) an unexplained phone call made between 4 and 6 p. m. on Jan. 19, date of the Drake Hotel murder, from Mrs. Williams' room, No. 836, in which she was slain, to a public telephone, Delaware 9896, in a North Side tavern.

Only two other calls were made from room 836 on that day—at 9:12 a. m. and 11:30 a. m.—and both have been satisfactorily checked, Martin said.

Mrs. Williams' movements on the fateful Jan. 19 have been traced, the detective declared, and it has been established definitely that she was not in her room between 4 and 6 p. m.

Yet the call was duly recorded, and investigators surmise the caller's voice may have been heard at about 4:40 by Eva Fritz, eighth-floor room maid.

The gun clue also has defied efforts to trace it, because the .38 caliber revolver was made in 1910 and no record of its ownership is available.

Capt. Frank Reynolds revealed he was pursuing another course and said that sensational developments could be expected momentarily.

Draft Review For Farm Help

WASHINGTON, Feb. 17 (AP)—Draft boards today were ordered to review immediately cases of 1,700,000 deferred farm workers and cancel deferments of those not contributing their share of production.

Selective service announced boards are not expected to continue to defer a farm workers unless he produces "by his own personal and direct efforts" at least 16 "war units" a year.

The "war unit" is a standard set up for the measurement of work performed during a year by farm workers subject to the draft. The care of one dairy cow, for example, is one unit.

68 Officers Flee Fire In Back Bay Mansion

Sixty-eight officers were driven from their quarters in the Army and Navy Officers' Club, located in the Sears mansion in Arlington st., Back Bay, by a fire which filled the building with smoke early today.

Dies Links Germans To 'Peace Now' Plea

By RAY RICHARDS
Boston American Washington Bureau

WASHINGTON, Feb. 17—Announced the pacifist "Peace Now" movement as seditious has been turned over to the Department of Justice. The report reveals that one of "Peace Now" chief organizers came here from occupied Norway on a German passport in 1940.

Origin of the movement last July, the report declares, was synchronized with German propaganda moves.

By asking American religious leaders to prevail on United States soldiers to lay down their arms, the "Peace Now" leadership embarked on "a plan of mass treason . . . truly colossal in its conception," the report says.

CITES PEEPER'S FINE

The report warns church and humantarian organizations to beware the movement's "negotiated peace" propaganda.

The organizer from Norway is named as John Albert Collett, who, the report says, was fined $100 at Cincinnati last year as a "Peeping Tom."

The New York "Peace Now" headquarters, it is stated, paid Collett's fine. Collett is still connected with the movement "anonymously," it is stated.

The report charges the New York "Peace Now" offices last October mailed seditious letters to 59 outstanding religious leaders.

The report quotes the letter to the church dignitaries as follows:

"This is a direct invitation to ask you in your high office, and those in authority in your denomination, to publicly request all the followers of Christ under your banner at once to lay down their arms and cease supporting this war."

The report comments:

"The laying down of arms, such as was advocated in the letters sent out from the national office of the "Peace Now" movement would, of course, be treason and would subject all those who were guilty thereof to the supreme penalty.

CALLS PLEA TREASON

"In the solemn judgment of this committee, the mailing of each and every one of these letters from the office of the 'Peace Now' movement was a seditious act and deliberately designed to lead toward wholesale treason on the part of the armed forces in the United States."

The report says:

"The request of 'Peace Now' that . . . religious leaders . . . invite their followers to lay down their arms immediately involved a plan for mass treason truly colossal in conception.

"For example, all cardinals . . . resident in the United States were among those invited to participate."

The report said the "Bible" of the "Peace Now" movement is an address, "A Call for Peace Now," first delivered last July by Mrs. Dorothy Hutchinson.

The present organizing committee of the "Peace Now" movement, according to the report, consists of George A. Hartmann, Mrs. Hutchinson, Marjorie Eubank and Bessie Simon, with headquarters at 15 East 40th st., New York city.

Purge Trial of 11 Begins in Algiers

ALGIERS, Feb. 17 (INS)—Trial of 11 persons charged with murder, torture and criminal violence against anti-Nazi aliens interned in an Algerian concentration camp prior to Allied occupation of North Africa opened today in the Algiers court of justice.

The courtroom was crowded when the five judges, two of them red-robed civil justices and three senior officers, took their places before a raised table.

The clerk read an almost interminable indictment concerning the manner in which the defendants allegedly treated 200-odd victims entrusted to their care for more than two years. A score of the former internees were in court as witnesses, some dressed in British uniforms.

Five of the 11 defendants went on trial today. They included a couple of clean-shaven colonels who made quite a contrast to the drab appearance of the others.

PENICILLIN USE LIMITS SET BY ARMY CONTROL

Release of penicillin for civilian use is done only to gain information regarding its curative powers that may help the armed forces, Dr. Chester S. Keefer of Boston declared in a Chicago speech, according to an Associated Press dispatch.

Keefer, chairman of the National Research Council's committee on chemotherapy, which has charge of allocations of penicillin, stated:

"We are charged with the responsibility of getting information to pass on to the armed forces, to be used in the treatment of wounds and diseases likely to arise.

"Any material we release in this program is for the purpose of collecting information that can be used in the overall picture and is released on condition that full reports are sent us."

He said requests for the new drug are not considered unless made by a physician.

Boys Begin Earning $100 Fines for Fire

Fined $100 each for negligence in causing the $143,000 fire at the Kimball Lumber Co. in Watertown, two 13-year-old boys must earn the money themselves to pay their fines in monthly instalments.

So ruled Judge Cunniff in Waltham court after police testified the boys set the fire by accident.

Atherton Assails Home Front Apathy

DETROIT, Feb. 17—Warren H. Atherton, national commander of the American Legion, declared in an address that America must awaken at once to a sense of its full responsibility to its soldier sons.

"America," Atherton declared, "has been careless. It has depended on its officials to see that the men who left arms and legs and sight on the battlefields had the care, attention and compensation to which the law entitled them.

"All America has been shocked by American Legion disclosures that many of our wounded have been forced to subsist on charity."

The Legion head's speech was made before the Optimists' Club.

Discussing the home front he declared:

"We at home just play less and pay more. We must work harder for not so much. That won't be a pleasant dose, but war is a serious malady. The sooner we realize that war means drastic denial, the sooner we face facts and take our medicine, the sooner we'll be on the way to a cure.

"We are paying 1000 casualties a mile and it's 800 miles to Berlin, and farther than that to Tokyo.

"The American Legion reported on Dec. 1, that a survey of 1537 battle casualty cases in 34 states disclosed that many of them had lived on their own resources for four to seven months after release from hospitals.

"It isn't good sense to declare war and then wait to make provision to care for the wounded until you see if you get some wounded. It is the sad truth that they are as certain as the fighting itself. If we wait to make provision for them until we have them, men will be neglected."

"NO MORE TROUBLE WITH CONSTIPATION!"

Says Long-Time Sufferer Who Tried Laxative Cereal!

If you, too, are disappointed with pills and purgatives, be sure to read this unsolicited letter!

"For several years I was afflicted with common constipation. I tried various remedies, but got only temporary relief. Several months ago, I started eating KELLOGG'S ALL-BRAN each morning, drinking water freely through the day. I have since never had the slightest trouble with constipation. My gratitude to KELLOGG'S ALL-BRAN." Mr. H. M. Eiley, 11 E. Division Street, Chicago, Ill.

Scientists say KELLOGG'S ALL-BRAN can really "get at" a common cause of constipation—lack of sufficient "cellulosic" elements in the diet — because it is one of Nature's most effective sources of these elements! They work by helping the friendly colonic flora fluff up and prepare the colonic wastes for easy, natural elimination. KELLOGG'S ALL-BRAN is not a purgative. Doesn't "sweep you out"! It's a gentle-acting, "regulating" food.

If you have constipation of this type, eat KELLOGG'S ALL-BRAN or several ALL-BRAN muffins regularly. Drink plenty of water. See if you, too, don't cheer its welcome relief! Insist on genuine ALL-BRAN, made only by Kellogg's in Battle Creek.

BLIND SOLDIER FINALLY GETS ARMY JUSTICE

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 17—A direct demand from the angered community of McCloud finally brought action from the Army today in the case of Robert Wetzel, blinded young soldier who was discharged in indecent haste with $2 in his pocket and no discharge papers.

The Army promised by telegram that young Wetzel will receive his written discharge quickly.

And that means that the 20-year-old veteran now will be enabled to gain admission to the Veterans Facility in San Francisco. He will have a chance for the further medical attention so necessary if he is to regain partial vision in one eye. And the government will pay the bills.

The Army acted in response to a strong telegram sent by Cheula Post No. 92 in Wetzel's home town of McCloud.

The telegram was sent to the commandant of McCloskey General Hospital at Temple, Tex., where the young infantryman had to pay for his own glasses the day he was discharged.

It was this hospital that sent him home without a written discharge, so that he was neither in nor out of the Army. The telegram said in part:

"This soldier tells us he has not been paid since August, 1943. What has become of his discharge and money?

Don Higgins, Legion service officer at McCloud, received this reply:

"Final pay and discharge certificate being expedited. A letter follows. Bethea, McCloskey Hospital."

Cut Capital Goods Shipment to British

WASHINGTON, Feb. 17 (AP)—Virtual elimination of capital goods shipments to Britain under Lend-Lease is understood to have been agreed upon by British and American supply officials here. The decision is one of numerous adjustments being made to keep Lend-Lease exports closely geared to military needs.

For several months the quantity of machinery going to Britain has been decreasing steadily, largely because British plants now have about all they need except for occasional replacements.

Republicans Assail FCC Inquiry Hush

By DAVID SENTNER

Boston Evening American, Washington Bureau

WASHINGTON, Feb. 17—The New Deal Administration was openly charged with attempting to kill off the investigation into the Federal Communications Commission by the two Republican members of the House Committee conducting the probe.

In a joint statement, Representatives Richard B. Wigglesworth (R.) of Massachusetts and Louis E. Miller (R.) of Missouri, branded the announcement by the three Democrats on the committee that the investigation into the alleged "pressure" sale of Station WMCA in New York was postponed as a "hush-hush move."

Wigglesworth and Miller charged:

"It is part of the whole New Deal scheme to cover up pernicious bureaucratic practices and the graft that is inherent in such a maze as we have in Washington today."

The detonation, promising even louder repercussions on the floor of the House, followed the sudden statement of Rep. Clarence F. Lea (D.) of California, chairman of the committee, that it had been unanimously voted at a committee hearing attended by Rep. Warren G. Magnuson (D.) of Washington; Edward J. Hart (D.) of New Jersey, and himself that the WMCA case would be put over.

Donald Flamm, who testified he had sold WMCA to Edward J. Noble, former Under Secretary of Commerce, only because he feared his wave length would be taken from him due to New Deal influences, has a suit pending in New York Supreme Court to recover his property.

The deal was reported in the testimony of Flamm as being "greased from the White House down" and the name of Thomas G. Corcoran ("Tommy The Cork"), former New Deal "Brain Truster," was mentioned.

British White Paper Urges Health Service

LONDON, Feb. 17 (AP)—A government White Paper proposed today establishment of a comprehensive national health service and urged quick legislation to make the plan effective.

The service should make medicines, hospital treatment and doctor's care available for every man, woman and child in Britain, with free choice of a physician reserved to the individual, the paper said. It also proposed establishment of civic health centers.

Shark Guard

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 17 (AP)—Netherlands pilots in action against Japanese off Australia now carry a water-coloring chemical which wards off sharks and enable rescuers to see them if their plane is forced down at sea.

Airmen have the powdered chemical sewn into pockets of a belt.

Await Ruling on Norwood Row Over Vet's Headstone

NORWOOD, Feb. 17 — Town Counsel Francis C. Foley is scheduled to rule today on whether an upright headstone may legally be erected in Norwood cemetery, and thus settle a controversy between cemetery officials and members of the Norwood Post, American Legion.

The controversy started when it became known that a government-provided headstone for a serviceman's grave can't be erected under existing town law.

It was brought to the attention of Legion officials when they asked Superintendent Louis Despanosa to sign government papers necessary to procure a headstone for the grave of Francis P. McDonough, 22, an overseas veteran killed in an auto accident while home on furlough.

Despanosa refused to sign, saying he could not legally do so since a ban was put on the erection of upright stones in the cemetery 12 years ago by the board of selectmen.

sault staged by a cum-laude combat unit. An eagle-colonel broadcast the "blow-by-blow" over a portable mike.

So, at the conclusion of the exercise, by courtesy of the Command (partly because the writer is the first U. S. correspondent to visit these ground troops in England—a fact of which they are curiously appreciative, since most of the journalists "play" the more spectacular (censored) air units—the little quota of New Englanders came out from the salad green, dungareed ranks. Not in platoons or companies, but enough for more than a corporal's squad—men with watery dribbles hanging from their noses, squinched-up eyes and chill-blue cheeks. For it was raw and bitterly cold on that hilltop. The ground was frosted gumbo and the wind cut like a wolf's tooth.

So, mercifully for all, including the correspondent, whose congealed fingers hardly made legible scrawls, the interview was hasty—cut further by the fact that the men faced a 20-mile march, or about the distance from Scollay sq. to Lowell.

There was Pfc. Peter P. Dallarusso of 96 Stanton st., Revere, a 60-mm. mortarman, who once trucked coal and ice for Sam Cohen (not the Record's Sam) and whose mother Josephine's Christmas parcel is still anticipated. And Pfc. Robert E. Sullivan of 11 Union st., Taunton, who has mislaid his B-for-barrack bag (he used to be a B. & M. section hand and doesn't mind the raw weather). And Pvt. Donald E. Haworth of 14 Weybosset st., Methuen, a "weigher" for Arlington Mills under the foremanship of Hudson Peel (he says "holc that job").

And Pfc. Francis J. Correia of 30 Brook st., Stoughton, the perfect spouse, who assures his wife Mary (Abril) that he remembered her Feb. 26 birthday, and wishes he could present himself personally as a gift.

Pfc. John J. Maloney
Watertown

Pvt. Joe Ferreira
Somerset

And Pvt. Francis P. Cunningham of 3 Columbia ter., Cambridge, an Army engineer who used to cut candy for Fanny Farmer's and play basketball for St. Mary's in the Catholic Y. L. And Pvt. Bob Flynn of 7 Laurel st., Arlington, who was counterman for Al Caveretta's Brattle st. drug store and had a couple of "quickie" 48-hour leaves to London, where he met Walter Welch. And Pfc. John J. Maloney of 39 Green st., Watertown, who was recently appointed to the town's fire department, where his dad, Thomas F., is lieutenant of Ladder 1, and his brothers, Jim and Tom, Jr., are firemen, too. (John says, "Keep the home fires burning" 'till he gets back.)

And Pvt. Christie E. Mito of 14 Dane st., Everett, who used to mix 'em for Cy Vaccaro's Valley Club, and is getting a maximum of comfort from his wife Vera's (Ellis) gift scarf. And Pvt. Coleman V. Joyce of 83 West Broadway, Southie, who gives the high sign to the remnants of the "Silverettes" at A and Broadway. And Pfc. Gustave W. Carlson, Jr., of 2 Centennial ave., Gloucester, a Northeastern U. grad ('34), who used to blow what he calls "the musical meerschaum" (saxophone) in Ernie Havner's dance band, and stand up at 11 o'clock in Jimmy Handrahans' lodge of Elks.

And Pvt. John J. Ptrata of 132 Child st., Hyde Park, a good, soldierly-looking lad who came to the U. S. six years ago from Italy at the age of 17 (censored).

And Pvt. Joe Ferreira of 35 Cherry st., Somerset, whose hobby was flying homing pigeons, and who belonged to the North Star Pigeon Club. (A friend, custodian of his flock, reports that the birds are thriving.)

Now your reporter, by the nature of his work, is not a patient character. Delay, dawdling, postponement and inactivity are infuriating. So it comes almost as a rebuke to notice the eternal patience of these soldiers, who wait passively by the hour, in formations, in mess queues, in exercise problems such as today's. I don't know whether this quality has any "carry over" value to postwar time and the return to civil pursuits but perhaps as Second Lieut. Carroll Schacht, the nephew and "spittn' image" of clown-Al Schacht of the old Red Sox, put it at mess time, "Why worry about the future when we haven't yet caught up with the present." Maybe that's the gist of the G. I's philosophy!

Why Ickes Takes Over War Camps

Boston Evening American Washington Bureau

WASHINGTON, Feb. 17—New Deal maneuvering, it is learned, made possible transfer of the War Relocation Authority to Ickes Interior Department before the issuance of a Dies committee report stingingly rebuking the WRA for its handling of the Tule Lake Japanese uprising in California last November.

The step "saved face" for the Administration, it is conceded.

While the transfer is regarded as a victory by critics of the WRA, it was granted so the forthcoming report will lose some of its effectiveness, because the WRA now has been deprived of independence and part of its responsibility through inclusion in the Interior Department.

Bricker's Platform

IT BECOMES CLEARER every day that no man in public life is presenting more simply and irrefutably in his public speeches the essence of traditional Americanism than is Governor John W. Bricker of Ohio.

On the constructive side of his speeches, Governor Bricker has formulated national and international policies that are undoubtedly the unspoken aspirations of an overwhelming majority of Americans today if the elections of 1942 and 1943 are criterions of what is in the mind of the people.

Here are some high points in a program, as Governor Bricker broadcast it, for the restoration of American democracy to its pristine power and purposes and also a fervently patriotic American's denunciation of the tendency of the present Administration toward enslaving State Socialism:

1—"Shall government direct the lives of the people or shall it create conditions which will enable them individually and hopefully to find their own way?"

That is a re-statement of the essence of the reason why this government was founded—which is that each shall enjoy his life and his liberties and pursue his private happiness in his own unmolested way.

Under the New Deal oligarchies, our lives, our liberties and our pursuit of happiness are ordered for us by political commissars.

Enlarging on the same vital theme, the Governor says:

2—"The New Deal is reactionary. It reaches back for centuries to Old World devices for extending power and depriving people of their rights."

Under the mask of "liberalism" and "the public welfare" the New Deal has become the most reactionary and Tory-like Administration in existence in any modern "free democracy."

3—The "devices" that have been used, among others, says Governor Bricker, to transform this country into a dictator's plaything include the expansion of the executive power and the narrowing of the constitutional prerogative of Congress.

The antagonism of the executive power to Congress has, indeed, reached such a point at present that it menaces and prejudices the orderly conduct of government.

4—"Spend, waste, borrow and tax" are the paramount policies of this Administration, says the Governor.

There is nothing more definitely descriptive than that of the financial policies of the Morgenthau-Hopkins-Ickes firm of amateur public accountants.

They spend in order to tax.

They waste in order to tax.

They borrow in order to tax.

And they tax, mainly, in order to destroy our free enterprise system and make us all parasites on postwar dolelines.

5—On the constructive side Governor Bricker calls for —"strict adherence to fiscal and tax policies which will stimulate venture-capital and private enterprise to provide jobs in private employment."

In international affairs he advocates a "co-operative organization among sovereign nations."

Note the words "CO-OPERATIVE" and "SOVEREIGN."

That means that the U. S. A. shall not be subject to any compulsion in its foreign policies and that we shall retain our sovereignty by refusing to become a member of a "world state" of which Mr. Roosevelt has been nominated as the "LEADER"—or President.

6—Governor Bricker has, besides, demanded that Congress pass a law that shall OUTLAW strikes during the war, that foreign interests shall keep hands off American elections, that there shall be no "national service" legislation and that the men in service shall have State ballots (and not Roosevelt Federal ballots) in the next election.

Whether Governor Bricker is nominated for President or not on the Republican ticket next Fall, he has outlined in the above the main planks in the platform on which any nominee will have to stand if he is to win.

A Grateful Nation's Demand

A POLL conducted by the American Legion reveals that more than half of the New England Congressional delegation will support the important and necessary "Bill of Rights for GI Joe and GI Jane." This is an encouraging report.

But it is not sufficiently encouraging to cause any relative or friend of a serviceman to stop urging his Senator or Representative to vote for all the provisions of the vital measure.

As Francis M. Sullivan, national legislative director of the Legion, says:

"I want to emphasize that this is merely a preliminary poll. It shows sympathy for the bill exists in Congress. However many things can happen to alter the legislative course of a bill in a few days or weeks."

All fathers, mothers, brothers, sisters, wives and friends of servicemen must make it clear to Senators and Representatives that immediate passage of the "Bill of Rights for GI Joe and GI Jane" is the NATION'S DEMAND.

'Tis sweet to love,
But, oh! how bitter
To love a girl
And then not glitter.
—BROOKS.

THIS IS the official poem of "The Brush-Off Club," which is an organization of men in the armed forces who have been jilted by girls they had hoped to marry . . . "Eight Thousand Nurses Needed," is a headline noted. Refers to the need of more nurses for United States armed forces and the difficulty in obtaining volunteers. For more than two years all single women in Great Britain between the ages of 20 and 30 have been liable to draft in the uniformed services of that country. We ought to be able to avoid that sort of thing here.

ALMOST CONFIDENTIAL: Maurice Chevalier is not as has been reported, in a concentration camp, but is living in a villa at Cannes . . . In England a package of cigarettes costs 47 cents, of which 35 cents is tax. Am asked what are the odds against the tosser in a game of craps. Seems to be a difference of opinion. I believe the statement the odds are 251 to 244 against the tosser to be most nearly correct. As to odds against throwing certain numbers, they are six to five against a six or eight, three to two against a five or nine, two to one against a ten or four . . . Have heard it stated that made to measure stockings for women last three times longer than the other kind. But don't ask me who makes made to measure stockings.

QUERIES FROM CLIENTS: Q—In what college football game did one player make all the points; the score was 3 to 2? A—You have me baffled as to the game but it is impossible for a player to "make" all the points scored by both sides. When a man is thrown for a safety the points are scored by his opponents. I assume the man you refer to kicked a field goal at one time in the game and was thrown for a safety at another. Q—You hardly ever hear of racehorse people getting divorces. Is it because men who know how to handle horses also know how to handle women? A—It is true racehorse people are rarely divorced. Probably because if they got a divorce they would have to stay home from the races one day to go to court and they would rather remain married than do that.

SAYS SHE: "So some female with an oversized husband says no woman is ever really satisfied with a small husband and usually has a tall and terrific dream man somewhere," writes an El Monte, Cal., subscriber. "My husband is 5 feet 4 inches tall. I love him more now than when I married him 17 years ago. I have no dream man anywhere. I wouldn't trade my husband for Clark Gable with Frank Sinatra thrown in."

ASIDES: As for famous punches of the prize ring, T. R. Reilly of San Francisco states the following is the complete list: Solar plexus, Bob Fitzsimmons; corkscrew, Kid McCoy; pivot blow, La Blanche; round house swing, Gunboat Smith; Mary Ann, Frank Moran; bass drum punch, Willie Meehan; bolo punch, Ceferino Garcia . . . Now there is a small motorcycle that can go 180 miles on a gallon of gasoline at the rate of 45 miles an hour. Right now these motorcycles are being used by paratroopers in Europe. Are so small the paratrooper can take one of them along as he drops.

SEVENTY-ONE PER CENT of the Carnegie endowment funds are in United States government bonds. The shrewd investors in this fund have been shifting gradually over to U. S. government bonds for about eight years. So when you buy a War Bond you can feel you not only have done your patriotic duty but have made a good investment . . . "Mongrel Dog Spreads Alarm of Fire; Saves Three Lives," states a headline. It seems as if every story you read of a dog hero it is a mongrel dog. Don't pure-bred dogs ever save any lives with fire warnings? The general impression is that mongrels are smarter than pure-breds. I don't think it is so.

PASSING BY: Detective Lieut. "Lefty" James. Famous West Coast sleuth. Some years ago when Al Capone was in his heyday he took a trip to Los Angeles and was met at the station by Mr. James who told him he was not welcome in that city "I'm a tourist," said Capone. "Then start touring," snapped James. Capone took the next train out of town . . . Serge Voronoff. Rejuvenation expert. Has just written a book "Sources of Life." He says nobody should be old until between 90 and 100. The beautiful young woman with him is his wife. She is 35, Voronoff is 77.

My Day — By Mrs. Eleanor Roosevelt

NEW YORK, Wednesday—Yesterday afternoon I stopped in at the Smithsonian Institution to see a special exhibition of paintings covering three generations. It begins with John Mix Stanley (1814-1872) whose painting is the rather sterotype oil painting of that period, but whose Indian scenes, some of which picture Tom Mix, are historically interesting. In spite of their conventional setting, some of the portraits also have great charm.

* * *

NEXT CAME the work of his daughter-in-law, Jane C. Stanley (1863-1940). Her water colors are full of color and light, and I thought all of them were delightful. Finally, pamtings by John Stanley's granddaughter, Alice Stanley Acheson (Mrs. Dean Acheson) are on exhibition. Her painting is very modern and some of the pictures appealed to me very much, but others gave me a confused sensation, as though I couldn't quite see what I was looking at.

I am afraid I am not much of an art critic, but I did enjoy seeing these three periods brought together, and on the whole I think we are doing a better job of interpreting our time today than we did two generations ago!

We have all been saddened these last days to learn of young Stephen Hopkins' death. He was with us just before he left. I am deeply sorry for his mother and father.

* * *

THE KNOWLEDGE THAT A sorrow of this kind is shared by hundreds of thousands of others does not make it any easier to bear, but I think it gives one a sense of the community of sorrows in the nation today. It shows us the need to go on with the daily tasks of life which lead one to do the things which make sorrow more bearable. If one can keep busy, both anxiety and sorrows get pushed into the background, if not out of the heart.

HOLLYWOOD, Feb. 17—Lou Costello is so anxious to get back in harness again after his long illness he doesn't care how many pictures pile up for him—and they are piling up!

As soon as Lou and Bud Abbott finish "Harum Scarum" at M-G-M they report back to Universal, the home lot, for "The Naughty 90's." This is the first period picture the boys have ever made and they'll sport sideburns and long bobs and all the other plush era trimmings.

Lauritz Melchior

Costello plays a song-writer who writes terrible tunes and Bud is his unsuccessful manager. Incidentally, "U" will spend plenty on this one, believing the boys deserve an extra "A" after the way their box office record held up in spite of Lou's long time out.

WHEN JOE PASTERNAK was in New York he heard Lauritz Melchior, the "Met" star, swapping wise-cracks with Fred Allen on Fred's show and it gave Joe a bright idea. He's signed Melchior for one of the top roles in "Trail of a New Romance," opposite Esther Williams, and in addition to his fine singing he'll have his comedy moments as well. They tell me the "artistes" had their feathers a little ruffled over the way Melchior kidded grand opera and pined for the salary Frank Sinatra earns. He said he was "tired of long hair—and short dough!"

AFTER A LOT of bad breaks things are looking up for Mae Clarke—the girl who used to play the Ida Lupino type of roles about 15 years ago. Paramount just signed her on a term contract and I was interested in hearing what Mae has been doing with herself between movie jobs. For the past year she has been conducting the community sings at the Burbank Ground School for the American Women's Ambulance Defense Corps. Her first test at Para will be for a role in the Mark Standish musical based on the WAVES, which stars Bing Crosby, Betty Hutton and Sonny Tufts.

"LASSIE" (the Lig canine sissy) becomes a proud papa in about six weeks and when that happens he swears he's absolutely through with being a female impersonator! From now on Lassie is going to play only male dogs in M-G-M movies, even if he does have to emote under the box-office name of "Lassie." What tickles me is that the best pup of the litter is already scheduled for his movie debut in "Son of Lassie." He'll play his old man as a pup!

SNAPSHOTS OF HOLLYWOOD, COLLECTED AT RANDOM: To keep the record straight—Ann Sheridan is not on suspension at Warners and she is not AWOL from the studio. Annie has promised Warners to be back in Hollywood Feb. 20; as soon as Betty ("Queen of Sheba") Blythe finishes her role in "Marriage Is a Private Affair" she heads for New York for a spot in the new Dale Eunson play, "Public Relations"; sorry to report that Lillian Lorraine, the ex-Ziegfeld Follies star, is critically ill with pneumonia in the Gotham Hospital in New York; Sonja Henie is back in Hollywood—minus 14 pounds. She's huddling with Bill Goetz on her movie, "It's a Pleasure"; Gus Schilling, the movie comic, and his wife, Betty Rowland, open their "Ball of Fire" night club on the strip tonight. Betty's the gal who is suing Sam Goldwyn for using "Ball of Fire" for a movie title. The lady says she is the original "Ball of Fire"; Woody Herman, the orchestra leader, is again 1-A, so he'll have to trek back to Chicago to see his draft board; Dennis Day and Rozanne King, pretty model, dining at the Biltmore Bowl; I'm home again after a hectic whirl.

The G. O. P. Candidates 19

By George E. Sokolsky

THE DEMOCRATS are missing the fun of a pre-convention struggle for office. Theirs has become a cut and dried party—with only the vice-presidency in doubt. And even the peregrinations of Henry Wallace do not add much to the dullness of repetition among the Democrats, although it helps somewhat. The Republicans, on the other hand, are having a grand time. The fight for the top of the ballot is perhaps the stiffest known since Theodore Roosevelt tried to cut out William Howard Taft and helped to elect Woodrow Wilson.

THE BEST EXAMPLE of what can happen to men lies in the contrast between Willkie's visit to Washington and Bricker's. Willkie walked in on the freshmen Republican congressmen a pretty popular figure; he left with hardly a friend in the room. He had succeeded in antagonizing men and women whose support in the convention he needs not so much by what he said, but by the way he said it. Nobody likes a self-appointed boss, particularly those who will have a final voice in establishing the authority of the boss.

John Bricker went down to Washington last week at the lowest ebb of his candidacy. People who know Bricker like him but too few know him. And in provincial Washington very few knew him—he had never been in Congress or held a job in a bureau. Nor has he devoted himself to press agentry.

But Bricker made friends on that Washington trip. He faced the doubting and showed them a man. He won the respect of most Republicans in the capital and even if respect does not always mean support, Bricker will come into the convention with more delegates than the Willkieites care to think about.

★ ★ ★

WHILE Bricker concentrated on Washington, Willkie was wandering the western lands. He is laying down a program for this country. Double taxation, increased trade with Russia, China and Australia, farmers instructed not to expect to return to the old days—these are a few planks of the Willkie platform. And Willkie is being heralded by a tremendous publicity barrage. It is a terrific campaign but the results are not in the bag. He will not get the California delegation. And the Republican party which is very short of cash, wonders where he gets all the money that is being spent to forward his candidacy. This trip will either put Willkie over or reduce the menace of his candidacy.

TOM DEWEY spoke at the Lincoln dinner of the National Republican Club in the language of a candidate. There can be no question but that he is a candidate. I watched him closely. He possessed poise and assurance. He spoke for perhaps ten minutes before he began to read his prepared address.

Dewey has grown tremendously during the past ten years. He has developed strength of personality and character and a keen appreciation of the problems that face this country. He is not afraid. He is not uncertain. He is positive in his philosophy of American life.

Tom Dewey will be a leader in the affairs of this country for years to come whether he is elected President or remains Governor of the State of New York. His only real opponent in the party is Willkie; Bricker is a competitor, not an opponent.

★ ★ ★

THOSE ARE the three Republican candidates for the Presidency. Lincoln's birthday is the real starting point of the campaign and these three started then. The struggle for delegates goes on behind the scenes, in the bargainings among those who control delegations. Willkie's strength is outside his own party; his weakness is his unpopularity with Republican politicians, particularly members of Congress. Both Dewey and Bricker are popular among Republicans although Bricker has made a smaller impression upon non-Republicans than either Willkie or Dewey.

That is the situation as the race starts.

ENDS 5-YEAR SIEGE OF CONSTIPATION!

"Now as Regular as Anyone!" Says H. C. Durand

Here's a sincere, unsolicited letter every disappointed "doser" will want to read:

"I'm 83 years old, and have been constipated over 5 years, going as much as 5 days without a movement. Pills and laxatives would relieve me only for the day I took them. Next day I'd be as bad as ever. Then I tried KELLOGG'S ALL-BRAN. As now can my second box, and as regular as anyone could want, thanks to regular use of your wonderful product!" Mr. H. C. Durand, 321 N. Columbus Ave., Freeport, Long Island, N. Y.

Sounds like "magic," doesn't it? Yet, KELLOGG'S ALL-BRAN really can, and does, get at a common cause of constipation—lack of certain dietary "cellulosic" elements! That's because it is one of Nature's most effective sources of these elements—which help the friendly colonic flora fluff up and prepare the colonic wastes for easy, natural elimination. KELLOGG'S ALL-BRAN is not a purgative! Doesn't work by "sweeping out"! It is simply a gentle-acting, "regulating" food!

If your constipation is of this type, eat KELLOGG'S ALL-BRAN or several ALL-BRAN muffins daily. Drink plenty of water. See if you don't find welcome relief! Insist on genuine ALL-BRAN, made only by Kellogg's in Battle Creek.

'Nudge' Your Lazy Liver Tonight!

CONSTIPATION with its headaches, mental dullness, upset stomach, lack of pep often result if bile doesn't flow every day into your intestines. So take Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets. Being purely vegetable, Olive Tablets are wonderful to pep up sluggish bile flow and insure gentle yet thorough bowel movements. Inexpensive. Follow label directions. Feel tip-top tomorrow!

They Found Elmer's Hideout!

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 17 (AP)—Every day or two, for weeks, Mr. and Mrs. R. Gwin Follis get the uncomfortable feeling their house was on fire. Finally, they called firemen.

The firemen found in the Follis' subbasement a neat little hideaway. They called police.

Police Inspector Harold Jackson found 55 cans of rationed food, bacon, oranges, jams, jellies and other provender in the hideaway—and a cookstove.

They were wondering who it belonged to when the front doorbell rang and a young man introduced himself to Mrs. Follis.

"I'm Elmer Dale Cox, late of Wichita, Kas," he said.

"I've been using their place as headquarters for quite a few weeks," the inspector quoted him. "I needed a place to live —you know how-hard they are to find—and I guess they just weren't looking when I moved in."

Cox was booked for investigation.

Overcome by Smoke, Woman, 81, Recovers

Mrs. Margaret Gamble, 81, of Essex st., Beverly, today was recovering at Beverly Hospital from smoke inhalation, suffered when flames swept the house occupied by her and three daughters.

Fire Capt. Mellen Jones and Patrolman Settimo Fabri carried the elderly woman to safety. The daughters, Mrs. Catherine Murphy and Ruth and Marion Gamble, were assisted out over ladders.

Hi, Julius!

NEW YORK, Feb. 17 (AP)—A personal notice in a newspaper here: "Julius. You're 1-A. Come home. Mother."

If you need to BUILD UP RED BLOOD!

How's One of the Best Home Ways!

You girls who suffer from simple anemia or who lose so much during monthly periods that you are pale, feel tired, weak, "dragged out"—because you lack precious blood-iron—start today—try Lydia Pinkham's TABLETS.

Pinkham's Tablets is one of the greatest blood-iron tonics you can buy to help build up red blood to give more strength and energy—in such cases.

Taken as directed—Pinkham's Tablets is one of the best home ways to get precious iron into the blood. Just try them for 30 days—then see if you, too, don't remarkably benefit. Follow label directions. Pinkham's Tablets are well worth trying!

KIDNEYS MUST REMOVE EXCESS ACIDS

Help 15 Miles of Kidney Tubes Flush Out Poisonous Waste

If you have an excess of acids in your blood, your 15 miles of kidney tubes may be overworked. These tiny filters and tubes are working day and night to help Nature rid your system of excess acids and poisonous waste.

When disorder of kidney function permits poisonous matter to remain in your blood, it may cause nagging backache, rheumatic pains, leg pains, loss of pep and energy, getting up nights, swollen puffiness under the eyes, headaches and dizziness. Frequent or scanty passages with smarting and burning sometimes shows there is something wrong with your kidneys or bladder.

Kidneys may need help the same as bowels; so ask your druggist for Doan's Pills, used successfully by millions for over 40 years. They give happy relief and will help the 15 miles of kidney tubes flush out poisonous waste from your blood. Get Doan's Pills.

Aids in the relief of constipation due to sluggishness of the intestinal tract... Agreeable to take. For young and old. CAUTION: use only as directed

Pimples Make Many Look Diseased

Do ugly, red, disfiguring Pimples make you look diseased and feel socially inferior? Have you tried a lot of things with little help? Well, many cases of the most stubborn Pimples, Acne, Eczema-like Rash, Blotches, Ringworm, Itching Skin and Athlete's Foot often are due to surface, non-systemic skin troubles—in such cases, Nixoderm (a physician's prescription) usually starts to work helping the skin look clearer, softer, smoother with the very first application. Nixoderm works while you sleep and in 3 nights must bring a delightful improvement in your appearance or your money back is guaranteed. Get Nixoderm from your druggist and see how fast it helps your skin.

Thanks JVA Unit for Gift

The 220 members of the "Defense and Aviation" Corps of the Junior Victory Army, largest in New England, have concentrated this week on backing the Fourth War Loan, according to the report of Capt. Kenneth Brody.

The unit is made up of pupils of Oliver Wendell Holmes school, Dorchester. It is commanded by Maurice Ames and sponsored by Miss Esther E. Larson, geography teacher.

They not only bought war bonds themselves but induced their relatives to buy and served as "Minute Men" in the school campaign.

Michael Feinstein still holds the individual lead. Others in the forefront are Judith Rosenthal, Rose Asanow, Paul Coyle, Barbara Bellin, Seena Chaben and Jean Buckley.

The week's salvage report showed: 60 lbs. of fats, 31 lbs. of tin, 564 lbs. of paper, 1163 books and magazines, 20 decks of cards and 50 lbs. of rags. Purchase of $1269.20 in war stamps was reported.

Plans for an amateur show are progressing and a letter from a serviceman acknowledge appreciation of a gift box was read.

To join the JVA, send your name, age and address to Junior Victory Army headquarters, P. O. Box 228, Boston, Mass. If, in addition to enlistment, you want the JVA insignia pin and membership card, enclose a 10-cent coin well wrapped in your letter.

Read the next JVA story in Friday's Daily Record.

Nabbed in Big Gas Plot

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 17 (AP) —Office of Price Administration agents announced last night three men had been arrested following investigation into illegal gasoline sales approximating 3,000,000 gallons in this area.

Rebel Democrats Claim Added Strength

CHICAGO, Feb. 17 (AP)—"The American Democratic national committee's plans to hold a separate national convention from the regular party's conclave is gaining support from every section of the country," Robert E. O'Brian, secretary of teh newly organized anti-Administration group, said today.

O'Brian, who announced the committee's leaders would meet here Saturday with anti-Administration Democrats from several Midwest states, said hundreds of pledges of support had been received at temporary headquarters here since the group was organized Feb. 4.

Nazis Need Workers

NEW YORK, Feb. 17 (AP)—Fritz Sauckel, Nazi delegate-general for the direction of labor, has called on all able-bodied German men and women legally exempt from national labor conscription to volunteer for war work "in this year of greatest decision," according to a Berlin broadcast.

Skillet Dishes

By MARTHA LEE

WHAT IS THE MOST popular kitchen utensil? If a poll were taken on this question, the answer would probably be—the skillet. And the reason—it's versatile.

If you're skillful with your skillet, you can use it for almost everything from making English Muffins to popping corn. And if you haven't learned to use it for making good main dishes, you haven't begun to realize what a lifesaver your skillet can be these busy days.

Many homemakers are doing war work in addition to housekeeping, and it is an added chore to come home and cook dinner for a hungry family. Skillet-cooking provides one hot dish with a minimum of effort. It's time saving, and if you own a handsome copper-clad stainless steel skillet you can bring it right to the table, and serve your dinner from it piping hot.

Try the following tasty dishes. They call for inexpensive ingredients, they're simple to make; they save fuel, and they're perfect skillet dishes.

BARBECUED FRANKFURTERS

12 frankfurters
1½ tbsp. flour
3 tbsp. water
3 tbsp. sugar
1½ tsp. prepared mustard
1 cup water
⅔ cup ketchup
3 tbsp. vinegar

Cut frankfurters in half lengthwise; place in skillet. Combine flour with 3 tablespoons water. Add remaining water, ketchup, vinegar, sugar and mustard and mix well. Pour over frankfurters. Cover and simmer 30 minutes. Makes 6 servings.

REGAL HASH

1 large onion, minced
4 tbsp. fat or salad oil
4 cups raw potatoes, diced
4 cups cooked beef, diced
Salt and pepper
½ tsp. Worcestershire sauce
2 cups hot water

Cook onion in fat or salad oil in skillet until golden brown. Add remaining ingredients. Cover and cook over low heat until potatoes are tender. Thicken with flour mixed to a smooth paste with an equal amount of cold water, if desired. Makes 6 servings.

LIVER SAVORY

1½ lbs. beef liver, sliced thin
½ cup chopped onion
1 tbsp. chopped parsley
2 tbsp. cooking fat
2 tbsp. flour
¾ tsp. salt
2½ cups bouillon
Dash of pepper
3 tbsp. vinegar

Wipe liver with damp cloth. Fry onion and parsley in fat in skillet until lightly browned; stir in flour, seasonings and vinegar. Add bouillon gradually; stir and cook until thickened. Add liver; cover and cook 15 minutes, turning once. Makes 6 servings.

SUCCOTASH FRITTERS

2 cups sifted flour
3 tsp. baking powder
⅔ tsp. salt
1 cup milk
2 tbsp. melted cooking fat
1 cup lima beans, cooked or canned
1 cup kernel corn
2 eggs, beaten

Mix and sift flour, baking powder and salt. Combine eggs, milk and fat; add gradually to flour mixture; stir until smooth. Add lima beans and corn. Heat fat in skillet to 375 deg. F. Drop mixture by spoonfuls into fat and fry 2 to 3 minutes or until golden brown. Drain on absorbent paper. Makes 6 servings.

Courtesy Tip

Most people are working harder today than they have ever worked before. This means that they have to get to bed earlier, to get sufficient rest for the next day's work and responsibilities. And this means that when they say that they have to leave your party early, you should be understanding, not insistently urge, "Don't go . . . it's early yet . . . I guess you're not having a good time at our party."

—MRS. BEECKMAN.

Fashion

NOTEWORTHY for its slimming lines is this striped, swishy faille for dressy spring suits . . . to complete a picture of unusual tailoring . . . This New York design . . . accented with shiny, jet jacket buttons and double flower decor . . . is a rich interpretation of smartness . . . dramatically picked up by the striped surrah headpiece . . . sitting so pretty on the model's pretty head. R. M.

Bride Must Buy Bridegroom's Ring

DEAR MRS. BEECKMAN: 1—My fiance and I want very much to have a double-ring ceremony at our marriage. I think I should buy this wedding ring. Am I right, or are they?

2—Our wedding is to be a formal church wedding, with a small reception afterward. Would it be proper for my mother to wear a street-length dress? H. R.

1—You are right.

2—For a formal church wedding the bride's mother (and the bridegroom's mother also) should, to be dressed consistently with this formality, wear a floor-length gown of the dinner type, or an ensemble of floor-length gown and matching jacket. A street-length dress is, of course, informal attire.

Help for Tired Skins

Beauty

By RUTH MUGGLEBEE

Rx FOR TIRED, weary, aging faces . . . If you've been to the doctor and he's given you a prescription . . . you probably recognize this intriguing hieroglyphic which heads his prescription for the composition and use of medicine.

Here it is again as a beauty prescription . . . a formula that is specific for the tired skin. If your face is drawn and wan from constant overtiredness . . . if your expression lines are unattractively deepened . . . if your skin is frightened white from fatigue . . . if your skin is dry and flaky and scarred . . . this Rx will be a most precious remedy.

Just because your skin doesn't ache . . . like other parts of your body which react to muscular pain . . . don't think that it doesn't get tired, too. It gets mighty tired.

But here is a formula for the skin which needs a glow that can only come through a whipped up circulation . . . a skin that needs firming to relieve the tension of tiredness in the facial expression.

Age is matched against this preparation . . . a cream concentrate of oils of the wilderness answering that haunting cry of a frantic female in search of a facial uplift . . . because it contains lipoids . . . an amazing ingredient . . . created to aid in keeping the skin in a receptive mood.

A CORRECTIVE TREATMENT

Rest, of course, is a prime antidote to tiredness. But if the hope of enough sleep goes glimmery . . . in your busy life . . . and if your mind spins too fast in the coping . . . this formula is specific for your facial condition.

Rich in rich oils . . . it is like an alarm-clock for tired faces . . . stimulating and re-enlivening those glandular secretions which tend to diminish with age and exhaustion . . . and which the facial skin MUST have if the complexion is to retain the bloom and blush of youth.

Buying it is a grand gesture . . . but you use it sparingly . . . like a miser. Just a little smoothed over the face . . . definitely away from the eyes . . . and over the throat and left on for twenty minutes . . . no more . . . will return that healthy radiance and fresh luminous look . . . banishing a drab, sallow complexion.

It is a complete corrective treatment . . . which so many of us girls need. It should be used only ONCE a week for a young skin . . . and not more than two or three times a week for aging skin This is imperative . . . since its activating effect is deep and firming.

For the name of this remarkable face revitalizer, phone the Beauty Dept., LIBerty 4000, except the week-end, or write us, care of the Boston Evening American, including a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

DON'T LET YOUR FACE BE A BAROMETER of your weariness . . . for nothing is so detrimental to beauty as a tired and drawn face . . . lined and scarred. For an ageless complexion . . . a famous cosmetician has designed a cream concentrate of oils of the wilderness to rejuvenate the skin . . . into healthy and glowing radiance. Paramount Star Claudette Colbert has always been considered a brilliant star . . . for her beauty and for her talent.

The Correct Thing

By ELINOR AMES

WHEN INTRODUCING a man and woman, it's correct to introduce him to her, as "Miss Smith —Mr. Jones." If, however, you slip up and reverse this, don't worry about it. The important thing is that you introduced those not acquainted and the chances are your error will not be noticed.

Match Hat With Clothes

By BETTINA BEDWELL

ONE way to guarantee that the hat you buy is a success is to see how it gets along with the clothes you're going to wear it with before you buy.

The way to do it is to wear your principal spring wardrobe units when you go out to get your hat. In this way, and in this way only, can you be sure that the hat you pick is going to live in sweet accord with them. Look at the hat, and the dress, coat, suit or whatever you will wear it with most, together. Look at the pair from every angle. And above all I think it is necessary to look at the effect in a full length mirror.

Your hat is not just something that affects your head and shoulders. It influences your entire silhouette.

Take every drop of waste kitchen fats to your meat dealer.

Busy Red Cross Workers Relax

By BETTY ALDEN

RED CROSS UNIFORMS were as plentiful as minks at yesterday's Morning Musicale in the Statler Ballroom. And those who knew what the various R. C. stripes and chevrons stand for could tell at a glance that some of society's most faithful and patriotic workers were in the audience.

Like G. I. Joes they wear their service record on their sleeves. Each stripe stands for a year of service and each chevron four years. If they are bright yellow they mean the worker is a staff assistant such as Mrs. Homer Albers, Mrs. Charles G. Mixter, Jr., Mrs. I. Lloyd Greene and Mrs. Donald Falvey.

Sporting bright blue stripes were a number of canteen gals, Mrs. William E. Barrett, Mrs. Samuel Stevens, Mrs. Walter Carl, Miss Elizabeth Leland and Mrs. Francis Capper. From the production department up at 17 Gloucester st., we glimpsed Mrs. Hatherly Foster and Mrs. Samuel C. Bennett. And Miss Harriet Robeson, who is in her 14th year in the administrative department and wears an armful of turkey red chevrons and stripes to prove it, also enjoyed a few hours relaxation at the concert. Her red insignia is the same shade as the familiar cross on the Red Cross banner.

Others in uniform (and all these uniformed women are also Musicales committee members) were Mrs. Charles E. Bacon, Mrs. Prescott Rogers, Mrs. Charles Gilbert, Mrs. Edwin Cave and Mrs. Charles Matz.

AFTER THE PROGRAM by Joseph Szigeti many concert-goers stayed on for lunch in the gay new Statler Terrace Room. A foursome of attractive young marrieds included Mrs. Robert Strange, a gay scarlet helmet brightening her black costume; Mrs. William S. Pier with a velvet Alice-in-Wonderland hair ribbon; Mrs. Norman Hoffman (Deborah Sprague) and Mrs. George N. Proctor, 3d.

Another peppy group lunching in the Terrace Room included Jane Ferguson and some of her committee for the Gardenia Ball —Molly Ruud, Nancy Nawn, Priscilla Perry, Dorothy Jenney and Barbara White.

In "mufti" at the concert were Mrs. J. Clifford Briggs, silver foxes with her modish black outfit; Mrs. S. Bruce Black serving coffee in a trim black dress and ashes of roses flower hat; Mrs. Francis Hastings, Mrs. Paul Sheeline, Mrs. Hovey Slayton, Mrs. Harold Pierce, Nancy Tucker, Mrs.

'Jeannie' One of Screens Best Light Comedy Hits

By PEGGY DOYLE

"Jeannie," the British-made "sleeper" that opened quietly in a New York art theater four months ago to do eyepopping business and win acclaim as a national magazine's "best light comedy of the year" choice, is now tenanting the Majestic and Normandie screens.

From us to you, such praise seems sheer understatement. "Jeannie" is one of the best light comedies of this or any other year. Just as the brassy washing-machine inventor from Yorkshire suddenly, surprisingly found himself head-over-heels in love with homely-enchanting Jeannie, so will you. The Marcel Hellman production has a kind of shy, inescapable beauty that sneaks up on you.

Pridefully, your film reporter points out that Barbara Mullen, the sharp-featured, practical yet naively romantic Scottish country-girl of the title role . . . and the very heart of this heart-warming picture . . . is Boston born. She is everything that Hollywood's synthetically glamorous queens are not . . . plain as a tea cosy, folksy as a neighbor of sugar-borrowing vintage and dear as a man's true love.

Twenty-six years old, heart-whole and heir to her father's "entire fortune" . . . 298 English pounds or $1188 . . . Jeannie decides to squander the bequest on a trip to Vienna. She wants to hear "The Blue Danube" played at the source.

Michael Redgrave and Albert Lieven, as the hero and heel, respectively, are soundly persuasive, the former blunt, almost arrogant in his self-assurance but essentially right as rain and the latter, weak yet understandably committed to re-estabiish the family estates and unfailingly charming in his romantic double-talk.

Harold French's sure direction keeps the story light and fresh. Anatole de Grunwald's script is rich in humor, pathos and character. But it is Barbara Mullen's beguiling Jeannie that makes this one a darling picture.

TOP THRILLERS AT TRANS-LUX

By JOYCE DANA

The footsteps may be sibilant, but murders cry out loud for you thrill-seekers in "Whispering Footsteps," one of the top pulse-pounders on the new Trans-Lux bill.

Here's a little honey in high-pressure homicide for the fans who must have maniacs stalking at midnight, and double-crossers dealing out death wholesale, and four (at least) beautiful girls murdered, and an innocent man right smack behind the eight-ball.

Good-looking John Hubbard's only crime, when you come right down to it, is his irresistible attraction for the fair and gullible sex. But it takes a lot of doing to get him out of the rap that means you know what. The gals all fight for the chance to alibi him, too, which only gets him in deeper. Most of the time nobody knows, and neither will you, whether he's Jekyll or Hyde.

Perish forbid that we'll reveal who the culprit is. But if you start guessing too soon — you'll be s-o-r-r-y!

The assorted beauties involved are Rita Quigley, Joan Blair and Juanita Quigley. Charles Halton and Cy Kendall are lurking around corners, and the shudders are simply swell.

If that's not enough to freeze you into a solid state of the shrieking shivers, wait for your favorite beastie, Bela Lugosi, in "The Return of the Vampire." With that skilled actress, Frieda Inescourt on hand, and vampires that go on the prowl nightly for bats, you're just shock-proof if you don't pull a good old-fashioned swoon.

It's a terrific double dose of horror for the house that deals out the very choicest in reels and reels of super-dupers in mystery and mayhem.

SUB THRILLER NOW IN SECOND WEEK AT MET

"Destination Tokyo," Warners' superb thriller about the Navy's submarines, is now in its second week on the Metropolitan screen.

Cary Grant and John Garfield have the top roles, but its star is that undefeated courage that keeps the American flag waving. Both stars and supporting cast, including Alan Hale, John Ridgely, Dane Clark, Warner Anderson, William Prince and Robert Hutton turn in notable performances.

On the same bill is "Henry Aldrich, Boy Scout."

Davis-Hopkins Hit at Scollay

Bette Davis and Miriam Hopkins are co-starred in "Old Acquaintance," Warner Brothers' interesting screen version of John van Druten's successful Broadway play now showing on the Washington st. Olympia and Scollay screens, together with "Minesweeper."

STABBED IN THE BACK BY ARTHRITIS

NOW is the time of the year when Arthritis is on the loose, stabbing victim after victim with its deadly dagger of pain. If you are one of those unfortunate people, here is important information for you to know. Many people suffering from nagging arthritis pains in back, knees shoulders and hands, never suspect that these pains may be caused, in some cases, by excess acids within the body.

As a dietary aid in the faster neutralization of these excessive acids which in turn may tend to bring speedier pain relief to this extent, Vig-Ore Sodeom Tablets were devised by a well-known food nutritionist. Vig-Ore Sodeom Tablets contain food sodium and food iodine, two minerals of nutritional value which may prove to be helpful to many arthritis sufferers. Vig-Ore Sodeom Tablets are free from all harmful chemical drugs. They positively do not contain injurious ingredients of any kind.

CUT OUT THIS ADVERTISEMENT and present it with $1.95 at any Nature Food Centres Store to get your Vig-Ore Sodeom Tablets. Take them as directed on the label and if they do not bring soothing relief to your aching joints and muscles faster than any other aid you have ever used, THE TRIAL IS FREE! Just return the bottle and get your money back. Vig-Ore Sodeom Tablets cost only a few cents a day to use. 250 Tablet Bottle—$1.95 (500 Tablet Economy Size $3.25) Mail orders sent postpaid. They are sold only at

Bobby Blake Can Dance; Follies Ace Tells Why

By HUCK FINNEGAN

Did your mother come from Ireland? No! Well, did your father come from Ireland?

Bobby Blake's father did, and that's the reason Bobby is the dancing-skating star of the "Ice Follies."

"The old man could dance," grins sandy-haired Bobby whose "swing waltz" number with Ruby Maxson brings down the Garden at every performance. "He used to oil up Saturday nights, invite all the neighbors in, dance himself and insist I dance with him. I could do the Irish jig when I was six, and when I was seven I was dancing in the town's minstrel shows."

Bobby Blake

That was in Mount Vernon, New York, pretty suburb whose only rival for Chamber of Commerce honors was New Rochelle.

Bobby was no Ulysses Lupien or Jim Tabor at baseball, but he was a good athlete.

"I was a member of the championship tumbling and diving teams," he continued. "I love to dance, and because of my old man. I did all sorts of dancing—ballroom-tap and acrobatic. There was a girl named Freda Leach who could dance like a whirlwind. She and I teamed together. We traveled together for a year."

★ ★ ★

Took Lessons

THEN FREDA got sick, and Bobby was left alone. What to do?

"The family moved to Philadelphia," said Bobby. "I was moochin' around, didn't have a thing to do, so kept up my dancing. Spent every nickel I had on dancing lessons.

What happened then?

"I saw the Ice Follies and I said to myself: 'Boy, if ever I could join that group I'd show them what interpretative dancing is.' But I couldn't skate. Oh, I had skated once or twice in the winter, regular skating that is, but I didn't know a twist from a twirl."

Bobby Blake was 19 then, was determined to join the Ice Follies. So he learned how to skate. How did he learn? By practicing nine hours a day at Philadelphia's Arena. His tutor: Pete Tyrell.

"My legs used to ache," he went on. "I used to drag myself home. But I saw the future of 'dancing on skates' and kept saying to myself: "Keep going, kid, you'll make it.'"

Bobby Blake did make it after years of tears and sweat.

And so?

The Army called Bobby in December, 1942, and he spent 10 months at Camp Campbell, Ky., in the tank corps, no less.

MEDICAL DISCHARGE

"I was discharged last August," he said (medical discharge). "But I expect to be called back any day now."

★ ★ ★

Bobby Blake speaking: "I had only three rehearsals in the swing waltz with Ruby Maxson . . . I'll never take her brother's place . . . But I'll keep trying . . . I never tried pair skating before but I love it. Ruby makes it easy. She's strong. Did you ever see her fall? No. You never will."

★ ★ ★

Mary Jane Lewis watches over the weights of the "Ice Follies" cast. "Get off three pounds this week," she told Ruby Maxson while the swing waltz girl was talking to John Ahern . . . "Gee they're the greatest crowd you ever worked with," the ensemble agreed. "Johnson and Shipstad dress with the rest of us just like they did when we were broke" . . . Bobby Blake, still yearning to learn, is taking dancing lessons off Bob Sweeney of Jimmy O'Keefe's fame . . . And here's the best story of all: Oscar Johnson telling Chas. Hoffman of the time he performed 19 times in a day in Chicago between "College Inn" and the "Coliseum." "We lived in a taxicab," he said. Said Hoffman: "Ice it."

Mel Ott Champion Sports Bond Seller

NEW YORK, Feb. 17 (AP)—It's beginning to look as though Mel Ott, popular manager of the New York Giants, is the champion bond seller among New York sports personalities.

Ott closed with a rush to win the popularity poll of the war bond sports committee, topping the late Lou Gehrig by more than 4000 votes although the latter received more individual ballots from small subscribers.

Last summer Ott nosed out Dixie Walker in a similar contest known as the Baseball War Bond League.

Bates Five Wins

LEWISTON, Feb. 17 (AP)—Bates V-12 basketball players won a 57-37 game from Castine Maritime Academy at the Bates gym

5-Year Win Plan

CHICAGO, Feb. 17 (AP)—Five years ago Lou Weintraub, baseball coach at Marshall High School, took on the added duties of coaching basketball—and ever since his junior teams have been winning their games.

The Commandos own prep basketball's longest known winning streak—94 games—and are heading for their fifth Chicago City League title. But Weintraub hopes that at the season's end, following playoff contests, the victory streak, which started in December, 1939, will be extended to 101 games.

Title Seen Sewed Up By Les Canadiens

By BILL GRIMES

Out in Detroit tonight, Les Canadiens will wind up a three-game road trip against the Red Wings. The Canucks are practically in as N. H. L. champions. They are seven games out in front of the Red Wings, who have only 13 more contests to play.

Before the acquisition of Flash Hollett, Murray Armstrong, Kenny Kilrea and Connie Dion snatched the Detroit club out of the also rans, the Flying Frenchmen had beaten Jack Adams' crew six in a row. That string of defeats didn't set well with the world's champions, and left a bad taste in the mouths of the Motor City fans.

CANUCKS UNPOPULAR

From here in the Canucks are going to encounter heavy going. For reasons, which are obvious to the close followers of the N. H. L., Les Canadiens are as unpopular with the other clubs as Detroit was last season. And, the Flying Frenchmen haven't helped matters by turning the heat on opponents during games played in the Montreal Forum.

For some weeks now, N. H. L. players have been predicting that Les Canadiens will not be physically fit to weather the coming Stanley Cup playoffs and lift the world's championship title from the Red Wings.

Ten days ago, the Bruins gave the Flying Frenchmen a terrible going over while hanging a 3 to 0 shutout on them. Even with Bill Cowley and Busher Jackson in the lineup, the Rossmen don't figure to rate with the Canucks. But, playing the type of hockey they did that night, they were a better club and gained a well deserved victory.

NO BAD MEN ON B'S

Now, it's a well known fact that there are no bad men on the current Bruins. True, Pat Egan, Jack Crawford and "Dit" Clapper can give the boys the "business" if the occasion warrants. But, on the whole, the Rossmen are peaceful and easy to get along with under ordinary circumstances. Or, at least, they had been up to that evening.

The Chicago Blackhawks, the Maple Leafs and the Red Wings are horses of another color when it comes to roughing up opponents. And, some of the Rangers can hand it out when riled.

Before they wind up the regular season, Les Canadiens must play four games with the Rangers, three with Detroit and the Maple Leafs and two with Boston and Chicago.

TILTS OF THRILLS

Although the outcome of these contests will have no bearing on the final standing of Les Canadiens, other than to increase or reduce the point margin, the tilts will be packed with thrills, if the boys go through with their intentions of roughing up the Frenchmen.

The Maple Leafs battled the Canucks Saturday night in Toronto and the following night the Blackhawks wore themselves out stepping into Dick Irvin's boys in the Windy City.

But with the thoughts of the six defeats they took this season in mind, the Red Wings will have an extra incentive to rough it up tonight when they go after Les Canadiens in the Olympia.

J. W. Curtiss, 85, Eli Crew Notable, Dies

GREENWICH, Ct., Feb. 17 (AP)—Julian W. Curtiss, 85, of Greenwich, retired chairman of the board of directors of A. G. Spaulding Son of New York, sporting goods manufacturers, and former advisory rowing coach at Yale, died today.

A former Yale crewman, he never lost his enthusiasm for rowing or athletics.

Curtiss, who rowed on the first Yale crew to face Harvard on the Thames river, New London, served Yale as an advisory rowing coach from 1901 to 1911, was referee of the famous Poughkeepsie regatta from 1916 to 1940, and a member of the Olympic rowing committee.

Curtiss was also one of the pioneer supporters of golf in this country.

Barney Oldfield Slows Down at 65

LOS ANGELES, Feb. 17 (AP)—The name Barney Oldfield, once synonmyous with speed and daring on American race tracks, today stands for safety, cautious driving and a place to eat in near-by San Fernando valley.

The cigar-chewing Barney has gone prosaic. The one-time terror of the dirt tracks who in 1914 made a record against world competition on Indianapolis' auto speedway for 5, 15, 20, 25 mile s has slowed down at age 65. Aside from his restaurant, he opreates a spacious country club and envisions it as a going farm after the war.

He's still chewing on those stubby cigars.

Barney began driving racing automobiles in 1902. He drove Henry Ford's first racer, in fact, the "999." His best time was five miles in five minutes and 28 seconds. "Boy," chirps Barney, "I really thought I was flying."

As faster cars came along Barney kept pace with them until he retired in 1918, the idol of the auto racing world.

In previate enterprise Oldfield associated himself with a tire manufacturing company, later with a Detroit investment firm and, just before the 1929 crash, had saved about $250,000. He went down with the rest.

"If I had my life to live over again," he says today, "I'd take up flying. That's the game for the young fellows."

Mace Brown Gets Raise From Sox

GREENSBORO, N. C., Feb. 17 (AP)—Mace Brown, relief pitcher for the Boston Red Sox, has signed his contract with the Sox for the coming season. Although he did not reveal salary terms, he said the contract called for an increase in pay over last year.

Hub Court Circuit Hitting Full Stride

By MIKE GILLOOLY

It took a long time for basketball to work its way back into the Boston school system but now that the court game has been returned, it's coming fast and furious as the 16 teams in the twin leagues attempt to make up for time lost by their late start.

Two more games—In the McKenney City League—will occupy the schoolboy spotlight tomorrow afternoon, winding up four days of action which will have found all entries in the double circuits making their debuts.

The two tilts on tap will find the High School of Commerce moving into a touched-up gym at Roxbury Memorial and B. C. High facing Trade School on the Public Latin floor, a meeting of two schools which will have no home games this season because of a lack of suitable gymnasiums. The Eaglets have been practising on the Williams st. court while Trade has been dividing its time between Cabot and Vine sts.

McCANN AN OPTIMIST

Coach Clem McCann of B. C. High rates tops for optimism in the return of the sport to the high schools. Although he's not expecting too much from his first team, the all-round coach has a comfortable feeling—and probably because he has his Handy-Andy, John Fitzgibbons, an all round athlete who can hold his own with any in all sports.

Fitzie is a standout catcher in baseball; a nifty back in football; a mainstay of the hockey team and he's a first stringer with plenty of ability on the basketball squad. Raised in Brooklyn, Fitzie played around a lot with the baskets. He gave it up in favor of the ice when he came to B. C. H. but now that he's back, he just needs to hit his peak to install the Eagles as a top notch five.

Fitzie will be a forward with Paul Sawyer on the starting team. He'll be working with Martin "Red" Finnegan, lanky center, and guards Jim Burke, elected captain, and Ed Furey.

TRADE HAS HOPES

B. C. High's opposition, Trade, will be made up of sophomores and juniors. Coach Joe Doherty has hit a new high with enthusiasm on his squad but the quality of play will be just fair. His starting team will have Bill Flecas and Edwin Stanton, forwards; Dave Padolsky, center (if he gives up his track) and Marshall Grossberg and Paul Fazzina, guards. Spares will be Frank Marino, Ed Kozul, Mike Allen and John Rock.

Coach John "Buzzer" Keane, at Roxbury Memorial, has had his team in action in practise games and they shape up fairly well. He'll have three six-footers in his starting line-up of Mike Rosenberg and Leo Newpol, forwards; Bill Grossman, center, and guards Mel Rosenbloom and "Jersey" Farrar. First call subs will be Gerry Rich, Harold Low, Gerald Rosenblatt and Gerald Morrisey.

Commerce Coach Gene Plocienik just hopes that the ambition of his squad will be matched by its ability. Intra-mural games have established Bernard Berrigan and George Hunter as the starting forwards; John Shagoury and John McDonald as the top centers and George McCafferty, Edward Dalton and Walter Kozul as the best of the guards.

REAL FIGHT SHOW ON TAP AT MECHANICS

Although boasting of no so called big name fighters on the card many who follow boxing closely are agreed that the Callahan A. C. show in Mechanics Building Friday night will be the most entertaining staged in Boston for some time.

The reason: Fight fans definitely believe that boxers who are on their way up and seeking, on the record, a shot at some of the fabulous purses being dispensed in Madison Square Garden this winter will be in there trying all of the time. It is a far cry, fans assert, from boxers who will fight and some of the so called champions who have been hereabouts in recent months and who come into the local ring overweight and as a result with nothing to lose and then kid the Boston fans in waltz time.

With prima donnas eliminated the Callahan A. C. has planned and arranged an All-Star program of 44 rounds with fighters in the cast.

Among the top slugfests will be the heavyweight match between Gilbert Stromquirst of Austin, Tex. and Howard Thompson of Saugus. The bout seen as leading the parade will feature "Lefty" LaChance, N. E. feather champ, and Vince Del Ortoro of Philadelphia.

Joe Sullick of New York City, meets Sammy Daniels, Baltimore's outstanding welterweight. Sailor Jimmy Mulligan of Lowell who will be tested by Indian Bennie Deathpaine from New Mexico and Tony Hatch meets Jimmy Burke of Buffalo in the opening four rounder.

N. H. Boy Knocks Out Briton in Allied Go

ALGIERS, Feb. 17 (AP)—Competition in the Allied boxing tournament roughened today as six of the eleven scheduled bouts ended in knockouts on the third day of the competition that will determine 16 amateur and professional champions.

Florant Desmorais of Manchester, N. H., chalked up the only pro division knockout when he belted out T. J. Bates of Great Britain in the second round of their lightweight scrap.

Tabor, Kluttz Sign For 1944 Campaign

Hustling Jim Tabor, veteran Red Sox third baseman, stopped in at Fenway yesterday before starting on his defense job, to sign for 1944 and thus give the Hose half an infield at this early date.

Lupien beat Tabor to the draw Monday but since both are now in line, General Manager Eddie Collins is waiting to hear from Eddie Lake, Skeeter Newsome and Bobby Doerr to complete his infield squad from last year.

Clyde Kluttz returned his signed contract to Braves Field yesterday before leaving for North Carolina to spend a short vacation with his folks.

Pics, Falcons In Arena Clash

Boston Olympics, with many of their first-line operatives available, will continue their Eastern League title hunt at the Arena Sunday evening as they play host to the Philadelphia Falcons.

Recent Philadelphia-Boston contests have been rough and ready affairs and the local team has been hard pressed to halt the rebuilt visitors. While the Falcons still trail the New York Rovers in the league pursuit of the Olympics, they are the team that Coach Hago Harrington is watching. Redvers MacKenzie has added, subtracted and grafted players all season until now he has a sound squad.
